WAR CONTINUES TO RAGE IN CHINA BETWEEN REBELS AND GOVERNMENT FORCES—FOREIGN NATIONS PROTEST

Train Containing American Embassy Secretary Atherton, Seeking Safety, Is Turned Back By Warring Armies And Powers Enter Formal Protest To Chinese Government.

ADDITIONAL U. S. FORCES TO CHINA

Peking, China, May 1.—Forces of General Chang Tso Lin, fighting with those of General Wu Pei Fu for control of Peking, turned back a train which was carrying American Embassy Secretary Atherton from Peking to Mukden. Foreign powers have forwarded a protest to Chang against his action in blocking the railways. They charge it is a violation of the protocol with the foreign nations of 1900.

Washington, D. C., May 1.—An additional force of 127 American sailors, 23 marines and 6 officers from the United States cruiser Albany have reached Peking to guard American interests in the present civil war in China. This force is to strengthen the American legation guard at Peking, which numbers about 400. A request has been made for another American gunboat to be sent to Tientsin to protect American interests there.

MINERS' TRIALS ARE COSTING BIG SUM

Charleston, West Va., May 1.—The miners' treason trials here growing out of the Logan County mine war last summer are costing the United Mine Workers $2000 a day. In addition the United Mine Workers have also put up large sums as bail for these miners. This battle of wealth against the coal operators, coming simultaneously with the coal strike and considered with the possibility of adverse decisions by the Supreme Court of damage claims is taking the financial condition of the organization, it was admitted.

AMERICAN OFFICER SHOT BY GERMANS

Mayence, Germany, May 1.—An American officer was shot in the shoulder and his chauffeur was beaten by May Day demonstrators here today. The crowd, angered when the American officer's automobile was driven through their marching column, attacked him. The American drew a revolver and a struggle ensued in which he and the chauffeur were injured.

Chinese Warrior

General Chang Tso Lin, Governor of Manchuria, who is leading his forces against those of General Wu Pei fu, chief of the central Chinese military forces.

ATTENTION BAND MEMBERS

All members of the American Legion Band are asked to report at headquarters Tuesday evening at 7:30 in full uniform for purpose of participating in Red Men's parade.

GENOA CONFERENCE AGAIN NEARS ROCKS OF DISAGREEMENT

Genoa, Italy, May 1.—The Genoa conference may break up immediately after Wednesday's plenary session unless the Russians indicate some quick solution of their problems is possible. The sub-committee met to continue its discussions regarding Russia but with no indication that the Soviet delegation was disposed to accept the Allies' note. The question of the advisability of continuing the conference beyond Wednesday was discussed.

RELIEF BEING SENT FLOOD SUFFERERS

Natchez, Miss., May 1.—Arrangements are being made here to rush food to Frogmore, Louisiana, where 1000 Mississippi flood refugees are marooned. The flood victims are living on scaffolds and are in dire need of food, according to H. B. Connor who is directing relief work in concordia parish, in which Frogmore is situated. Plans are being made to remove the refugees to refuge camps and power boats are expected to begin picking them up today.

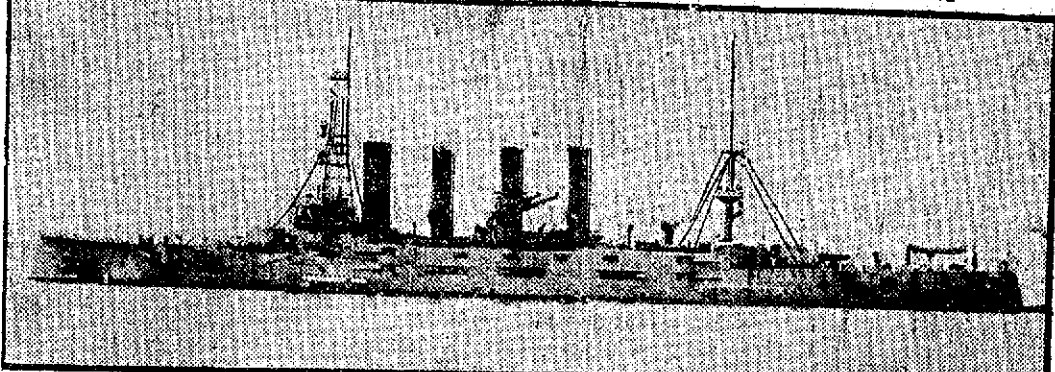

DENBY ASKS FOR GREATER NAVY

Washington, D. C., May 1.—Secretary of the Navy Denby today asked the Senate Appropriations Committee to increase the navy appropriations bill for 1923 by $28,166,000. Denby said the increase would be essential to the proper conduct of a navy of 86,000 men.

Indiana In Limelight By Reason Of Important Senatorial Primary

Indianapolis, Ind., May 1.—Indiana will go to the polls tomorrow to render its verdict on President Harding's administration. A vote will be taken on Senatorial nominees in which contest Harry S. New, one of Harding's chosen friends is seeking the nomination against Albert J. Beveridge. Senator New stands squarely upon the record of President Harding and the record of the present Congress in which he has played an important part. Senator Beveridge says he will support Harding, but Beveridge has a few policies of his own and the "old Guard" fears he would wreck Congress, if elected, like the bull wrecked the china shop.

SENT TO SCENE OF CHINESE DISTURBANCES

The Huron, flagship of the Asiatic squadron, is proceeding to China under rush orders because of disturbed conditions there. Some Americans have been isolated by the cutting of rail lines between Peking and the sea.

LOCAL HIGH RACERS HAVE HARD LUCK AT PENN RELAY RACES

Going Along Fine, With Good Chance For Second Place, When Jinx Downs Runner.

TORRENCE SHINES

Old Demon Hard Luck, (and this is no Alibi like tale) pursued our Clearfield High School athletes at the National Championship relay race, at Philadelphia Saturday afternoon, and when the double cross-eyed Jinx got through with us, instead of resting securely in second place, as we expected a few seconds before the finish our boys were completely out of it.

Clearfield Hi's team was made up of Torrence, Smith, Batcheller and McKenrick. When the mile relay was called representatives of nine Penn and High Schools throughout the U. S. A. took their places in line. They were off at the pistol shot and the red and black of old Clearfield High was carried over the finish line of the first quarter ahead of all the rest by the incomparable Torrence.

Jimmie Smith took up the burden of the second round, but found two fellows in the line up speedier than he was and turned the flag over to George Batcheller in third place. "Batch" ran a fine race and finished third but held his own manfully throughout the heat.

McKenrick, our other State champion, was in fine fettle for the final lap and was stepping along with second place almost within his grasp when he truck the concrete curb along the track and losing his balance tumbled to the ground one hundred yards from the finish.

The race was won by Germantown High in 3:27 with Harrisburg Tech. second.

In addition to the runners mentioned, Hensyl Johnson, sub, and Coach Crane made up the Clearfield team, Principal Kopp, who is in charge of the Athletic arrangements remaining at home.

Quite a delegation of local people attended the race and hoped to be able to cheer the Clearfield Hi athletes on to victory and while naturally disappointed at the unfortunate outcome were pleased at the showing made by the team up to the time the accident to the generally dependable McKenrick.

BATHING POOL MINISTER GIVEN SEVERE MAULING

Lawton, Okla., May 1.—The Lawton swimming pool wedding church feud became more bitter today as a result of the kidnapping and black-jacking of Rev. Thomas Irvin, gun totin' Presbyterian pastor, who performed the ceremony. Rev. Irvin was bound hand and foot and left lying overnight in the mud and rain near where he married the couple in their bathing suits. Irvin who is resting at his home here today told this story of the kidnapping: "I started home Saturday night after a visit with a member of my congregation and was walking down a side street. All of a sudden something struck me on the head and after that I did not know what happened for some time."

INCENDIARY FIRE DAMAGES BARN OF ABE ROBINSON

Bunch Of Excelsior And Kindling Put Against Building And Match Applied Last Evening.

SEEN BY NEIGHBOR

An incendiary attempt was made to burn the barn on the lower end of the Abe Robinson lot on Cherry street last night about 11 o'clock. A large quantity of excelsior and kindling was placed against the door of the Cherry street side of the building and a match put to it. The fire was blazing up menacingly and had already communicated with the door when Mrs. William Hoffman, who lives next door to Robinson's, noticing the reflection of the blaze against her bedroom window, arose and saw the fire at the barn.

Mrs. Hoffman gave the alarm and Mr. Robinson and other neighbors succeeded in quenching the flames before much damage was done.

It was a narrow escape from a serious fire as there are two frame houses, four other frame barns and the Fullington Jitney bus garage in close proximity to where the fire was planted its inflammable and lit his match.

Mr. Robinson has a strong suspicion as to the identity of the incendiary and will turn that information over to the local police and State Fire Marshal's department for investigation.

BOWERYITES HAVE FINE PLAY GROUNDS NOW IN THE MAKING

One of the most interesting results of the efforts of Clearfield Community Service to increase the play facilities of the city has been in the transformation that is taking place in the vacant lot at the corner of N 4th and Reed streets. Under the direction of Hobart Callahan the boys of the neighborhood were out in force on Saturday and raked and leveled up the lot, a team from the Bottling Works helped in removing some of the rails and heavy material, while men from the Harbison-Walker Co. and the Clearfield Machine Shops helped in putting the place in shape. The various concerns that have stored old machinery, wagons, etc., on the lot have promised to remove them this week, and the crowded space between piles of junk where the boys have been trying to play ball the past week or so will become a large clean play space. It is planned to have a base ball diamond, volley ball court and space for quoit pitching, with the supervision of the lot in the hands of a committee of the neighbors. There are a number of vacant lots in the city where this example could be followed to advantage.

SCHOOL CLOSED

AT WILLIAMSDALE
A very successful term of school closed at Williamsdale on Thursday April 27th with a delightful play by the teacher and scholars in the evening. A small fee was taken at the door and the proceeds to go to the Goshen M. E. church. Miss Georgia Dodd as teacher was very satisfactory in school work. She left for her home in Penfield on Saturday.

FOREST FIRES ARE CREATING HAVOC NORTH OF TOWN

Upper Trout Run Country Devastated By Fire Which Has Been Burning Past Three Days.

MORE FIRES TODAY

A very destructive forest fire raged for several days last week on the headwaters of big Trout Run on the mountains north of town and burned over several hundred acres of woods land before the fire fighting forces marshalled by State Forester William F. Dague could get the fire under control.

Saturday evening it was reported that the fire was surrounding the Crooked Run Camp and hunting territory and a bunch of Crooked Run fellows drove out to assist the fire fighters already on the job. They left Clearfield at 10:30 and word from the mountains at noon Sunday stated that the fire was under control.

This fire started along the banks of Trout Run and was no doubt due to the carelessness or worse, of some trout fishermen. It was a very destructive fire and should serve to make trout fishermen and all those who go into the woods very careful of fire in the future.

Forester Dague had several large crews out continuously the past three or four days and nights and thought he had the fires in the Trout Run country subdued, but this morning a fire was reported between Medix and Trout Runs, while just before dinner another blaze was discovered in the Trout Run section just beyond Goshen.

Men were hurriedly sent out to fight this latest blaze, which is thought to have been of incendiary origin. In fact it begins to look as though these fires are being deliberately set out and a strong patrol will be sent to the mountain in the hope of capturing some of the fire bugs.

A fire bug suspect has been rounded up in one of the sections where several fires have occurred this spring and an arrest is looked for in this and another case or two before the week is out.

EAST END KIDDIES ENJOY STORY HOUR

The school children of the East End, with their younger brothers and sisters, responded in crowds to the announcement of a story telling hour at the 4th Ward Schoolhouse on Saturday morning under the Clearfield Community Service group of story tellers. There were so many that half of them played games in the school yard while the others heard the stories. Mrs. H. P. Reed and Mrs. Don Gingery told the stories, while Miss Catherine Thorne, Miss Laura John, Miss Susannah Rucker and Miss Jury assisted Miss Haire in the program of games. A similar program will be given in the 3rd Ward school next Saturday morning.

Mrs. R. E. Dale, of Bigler was a Clearfield visitor Saturday.
Mrs. W. C. Cowdick of Pine Grove shopped in town Saturday.
Mrs. W. C. Thompson is a surgical patient at the Clearfield Hospital.

BUSINESS CONDITIONS ARE IMPROVING, ACCORDING TO COMMERCE DEPARTMENT IN STATEMENT MADE PUBLIC TODAY

Report Says Retail Prices Continue To Decline, Index To The Cost Of Living Showing Three Point Drop During Month Of March—No Immediate Boom Looked For.

RECONSTRUCTION IN EUROPE IS SLOW

Washington, D. C., May 1.—Business conditions are improving and the export trade also shows an increase, the Commerce Department announced today. Manufacturing enterprises are working on good schedules. The Department said the figures, however, are not sufficiently complete to show how great the increased activities of the factories reflect buying by the public.

Washington, D. C., May 1.—Retail prices continue to decline, the report said. The index of the cost of living showing a drop of three points during March, the greatest decrease was in the cost of food. Both the wholesale and retail trade was spotty, but with an evident improvement over preceding weeks. From figures available it is clear the fundamental conditions are much better and there is every reason to expect business to improve steadily, although perhaps slowly. With world conditions as they are today there is no likelihood of an immediate boom movement. Reconstruction in Europe is far behind what it is in this country.

TWO WOMEN SAID TO BE SUSPECTS IN THE BRUNEN HOMICIDE

Mount Holly, N. J., May 1.—The names of two women who are implicated in the murder of John T. Brunen, circus owner, slain in his home in Riverside, N. J., March 19, will soon be made public. This announcement was made by County Detective Parker after he had checked up on Harry Mohr, brother-in-law of the slain showman, who with Charles Powell is in jail here. He said that Mohr who is married has been leading a double life and that the woman whose names he will reveal today had a direct bearing on the slaying.

GAME AND FISH LAW VIOLATORS SUFFER

Deputy State Game Protector W. J. Davis, of Clearfield was quite active in several sections of the county the past week. On Wednesday last he arrested members of the Tom & John gypsy caravan, near Houtzdale for shooting birds and Squire John Scollins fined the Gypsy $40 and $11 costs.

Thursday Game Warden Davis prosecuted Dan Warfield of Rosebud before Squire George Askew and Warfield paid $25 and costs for his dog running deer.

Friday Davis captured F. R. Maurer, of Patton fishing in Deer Run, without a license. He paid $25 and costs.

Friday afternoon Davis "wheeled" over to Mahoning Creek, near Gypsy, Indiana county and found G. R. Webster fishing without a license. Webster also added $25 to the Fisheries Department.

Orms Steigers, of Rosebud, was found with two grey squirrels in his possession, which he had trapped. He paid $20 for his violation of the law and the squirrels were released.

$20,000 FIRE AT UNIVERSAL

Pittsburgh, Pa., May 1.—The general store of Frank Romanko and five residences were destroyed by fire at Universal, Pa., early today. The loss is estimated at $20,000. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Release Is Granted To Suspect In Hoopetown Murder Mystery Case

Hoopetown, Ill., May 1.—A post mortem over the body of the murdered Gertrude Hanna was held in an effort to identify her slayer. Male friends of the teacher whose body was found in the basement of the United Presbyterian church were examined. The attorneys interested in the case returned here from Danville the county seat and sifted the evidence which had been collected by John Bogard, Chief of Police. They say they have no evidence on which to hold John Wyman, the thirty-five year old farmer, who confessed to being the girl's betrayer for the murder.

Russian Recognition Is Rapidly Becoming Issue For Our People

Washington, D. C., May 1.—The question of whether the United States should recognize the Soviet government of Russia as the result of the Genoa Economic Conference is rapidly becoming an issue which will demand the attention of this country. The statement in Chicago of Samuel Gompers, President of the American Federation of Labor, warning against dangerous Russian propaganda in the United States to bring about recognition of Russia by the United States, has done more than anything to bring the matter to the forefront. It is believed here that it is very doubtful if such recognition will be granted by the United States, at least for a long time, or until there has been a decided change in affairs in Russia.

FIVE KILLED IS SUNDAY AUTO TOLL

New York, N. Y., May 1.—Five killed, including a year-old baby, and many injured, was the week end toll in automobile accidents in this vicinity.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

It sure is too bad that Madeira is so far away. In that very satisfactory country everybody works but father, as that old jazz song used to have it. Father sits at home all day smoking his pipe and filling up on active drinks, while mother and the kids go out and rustle in the daily bread. The woman of Madeira works in the embroidery factories and when a rout, 30 per cent cut in wages, was made and the women began to talk strike the men folks wouldn't have it that way, but made the would be strikers accept the cut and keep right on working.

That alleged duplication of government bonds which some Congressmen appear to want to make a sensation over, does not exist, according to Secretary of the Treasury Mellon. What did occur is this: One of the numbering machines being used in Government printing office while the Liberty Bonds were being prepared slipped a cog during the printing of one of the Liberty bond issues, and recorded duplicate numbers, automatically correcting itself later. When one of these duplicates showed up, the Secret Service reported to the Department of Justice. As a result three employees of the Bureau of Printing and Engraving lost their jobs for failing to watch their machines, but the Government did not lose a penny and no bonds got out that were not paid for.

What seems the most picayune piece of politics of the time is the action of the Internal Revenue Bureau in dealing with the Woodrow Wilson Foundation.

Through subscribers to the McKinley Memorial Association and the Roosevelt Memorial Association have the right to subtract the amount of their contributions in their income tax returns under the provision that makes contribution to educational organizations deductible, the subscribers to the Woodrow Wilson Foundation have been informed that no such privilege extends to them.

Woodrow Wilson is still the bogey man of the Republican Administration. Every time the former President is applauded the Administration has a nervous fit. This was manifest when Mr. Wilson indicated a desire to participate in the observances of the Unknown Soldier's interment, when for days Mr. Wilson was kept waiting for a reply and assignment to a place in the parade.

The announced pilgrimage of 5,000 women to Mr. Wilson's home has likewise filled the Republican sentiments with gloom and apprehension. It took a long time for the Internal Revenue Bureau to find a method by which they could make fish of memorials to Republicans who had occupied the White House and flesh of the Democrats, but they did it, after the subordinates had accepted the identity of the cases as a matter of course and had so reported promising formal corroboration of the verdict.

Before this formal word came, however, the "best minds" got busy and finally decided that while a body formed to erect and maintain monuments for Col. Roosevelt, with an endowment fund to promote his ideals, was an educational organization, a body formed for the purpose of endowing a fund to make awards to individuals who render conspicuous service to the advancement of Mr. Wilson's ideal of democracy (with a small "d"), and human freedom, was not purely educational under the statute.

Mixed Characteristics.
At a political gathering in England an orator waxing indignant said, "To ridicule the idea of this country being invaded is to follow the example of the camel, which buries its head in the sand when an enemy approaches." The rival speaker rose and retorted, "Surely the gentleman in giving utterance to this apothegm, must have meant to refer to the ostrich which, in those circumstances, has a habit of putting its eye through a needle."—Boston Transcript.

For Outings

The sport coat or middie is just the thing for outings. They must be in lip-stick red or jade or a very bright color. Note the button-holed collar of the middie and the patch pockets of the sport coat.

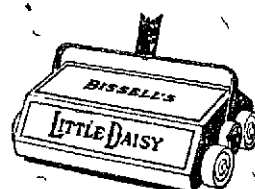

Perfect Alibi.
A small boy who is observant and an excellent liar, informed his mother that he was quizzed by his mother about a scratch she had just found on one of her pieces of furniture. He replied, "I didn't do that; can't you see it's only a toothmark?"

Coquette's Explanation.
A young man recently asked one of the opposite sex why girls so frequently become engaged to several fellows at once. "A smoker like you shouldn't have to ask that," she replied with a laugh. "When you have only one match, don't you generally go out?"—Boston Transcript.

At What Age Should You Take Needless Risks With Your Health?

Is that a queer question?

Then many people are doing a queer thing—and often it turns out to be a serious thing.

The Federal Bureau of Education says in its rules for the health of school children that children should not drink coffee or tea.

This rule is based on the well-known fact that the drug element in coffee and tea whips up the nerves, and that serious ills often follow.

If it's a good rule for children to keep away from the harm of nerve-stimulation, isn't it a good rule for everybody?

Think it over.

Granted that your body may stand more, can your judgment afford to risk more? Any doctor can tell you what coffee and tea often do to the health of adults as well as children.

There's no sacrifice in being safe. Postum is a delightful, satisfying mealtime beverage, wholesome and pleasant alike for adults and children. Postum has no age limits!

Your grocer has both forms of Postum: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for fully 20 minutes.

CURWENSVILLE SPECIAL

The Curwensville Realty Company is now a permanent organization and capitalized at $25,000. A meeting was held in the office of the Casper Coal Company, last Friday evening and the following corps of officers elected. President L. W. Spencer; Vice President Guy B. Clark; Secretary, Ralph Johnston. A full board of directors was also chosen. A charter has been applied for and as soon as it is approved and granted the company will be ready for business.

The main object of this organization will tend toward real estate, the building, buying and selling of houses to all those who desire to own their own homes, the erection of five new houses will be started right away and are already practically sold as soon as completed. Blocks of stock will be issued at $500 each and open to all who wish to invest. This organization is not antagonistic to the Curwensville B. & L. Association, but will endeavor to work in conjunction with that body, for the benefit of Curwensville. Curwensville has been badly in need of fifty or more houses for the past five years and now this new financial aid comes to the front to fill a long felt want and give a renewed impetus to the business interests of this town. The people heartily extend the hand of welcome and will assist the Realty company in their work.

Robert Atcheson the man who ran into Mr. Weisgarber with his auto at Stronach station last Sunday, left for Syracuse, N. Y., today driving his machine through to that point.

Lemuel H. Bilger on Friday sold his North street residence property to Blair Gates. Consideration $6,100. Mr. Bilger and wife leaves for Connecticut will spend some months with their daughter, Mrs. Wayne Robison.

H. A. Woodward returned from Elmira, N. Y., Friday to which city he been summoned by the serious illness of his mother, her age being 90 years. He was pleased to state that the aged lady was improving.

Henry Heitzman's mountain colts were again defeated on the Phillipsburg duck pin bowling alley last Friday evening by 31 points. A return game will come off on the home alley some evening during this week.

The Haymaker's cake walk held on the second floor of the new Elbert street garage instead of the Moose hall as advertised, was a drawing card Saturday night and rewarded the promoters quite well financially.

During the month of May a Methodist Sunday School rally will be inaugurated throughout the county. The school here has been asked to participate and use every effort to increase the attendance during the summer months of both youths and adults.

Sunday Pastor Dingman of the New Millport-Curwensville Lutheran church preached his farewell sermon to his flock of Grace Lutheran.

church. He removes to a charge in the eastern part of the state. His congregation in this place are sorry to see him depart from among them but unite in wishing him all kinds of success in his new field of labor.

An effort is being made by the members of the Methodist congregation, through entertainments and otherwise, to raise a fund of money by which the auditorium and other rooms of that edifice may be put in a more pleasing and delightful place to assemble for worship. The congregational room is entirely too dark and dismal and a hard vacuum for a minister to be heard clearly. There has been no improvements made to this room since the building of the church and the architect must have had in mind prison instead of church walls and decorations when he transcribed the blue prints. Already one lady has seen the need of renovation and has contributed the sum of $500 toward the fund. There are others connected with the church roll who could follow her example and never miss the sum from their exchequer. Perseverance will drill a tunnel through the highest mountain and that is what those interested in remodeling the church are going to do. "Keep tunneling" and working until an amount is raised to do the necessary work and make changes in conformity to what a place of worship ought to be.

Badger Villages.
Badgers live in burrows which they dig themselves and in some parts of the West these burrows are numerous in small areas, says the American Forestry Magazine. Although they were all the work of badgers, many of them had been dug to secure gophers, prairie marmots, mice and other rodents, upon which they prey. These burrows, often covering several acres, are a source of constant annoyance and danger to travelers on horseback.

Porridge Makes Scots' Sturdy.
Has porridge made Scots sturdy? New light has been thrown upon this subject by the discovery within the last few years that porridge may have a strong effect upon the mysterious pituitary gland—which is a small organ at the base of the brain, determining our size and physical characteristics. If this little chemical factory is too active we are liable to become giants; if it does not work hard enough we may be Tom Thumbs. Some doctors now say that porridge makes the gland work in such a way as to produce the high cheek bones and splendid bodies which are the trademark of the Scot.

MILK IS A UNIVERSAL FOOD

Milk might be termed THE universal food, for it is the greatest one-article item that enters on your menu. You will find everything in milk that you will find in a combination of several other foods, and you will find that after you have drank milk for a short time that you will begin to feel better and that your system will answer to the increased food feeding.

Drink milk at your meals and then drink plenty more in between.

"I Believe in Earning the Right to Exist by Living Constructively"

By MARTHA GROVES McKELVIE, Wife of Governor of Nebraska

It should cause no surprise that I am able to keep up a twenty-one room home without servants, prepare all of the family meals, tend to my child, and still do my best to attend to my social duties as wife of the governor of our state.

I run my home systematically, and have the housework done by 10 o'clock. Then instead of wondering what I will do to pass the time, I work on a rag rug, a big correspondence, cleaning closets, pressing clothes, or grooming myself, as all wives do, I suppose.

I answer about forty telephone calls each day and accept as many invitations as possible from people and organizations who will understand tardiness in a governor's wife when she says she is sorry but she had to put the laundry to soak.

I try to live up to the traditions of my ancestors, who believed in service and earning your own right to exist by living constructively.

I live three months of each year in the woods, primitively close to God's production and his clans, and this keeps me humble for the rest of the year, with my feet on the ground.

Business of the World Would Stop if Mathematics Were Wiped Out

By PROF. DAVID E. SMITH, Columbia University

Let us imagine, if we can, that by some mighty cataclysm, there should be wiped off the face of the earth tonight every book on mathematics, every mathematical symbol of every kind, every written page or written sheet on which a trace of mathematics appears, and every machine for computing or recording numbers. What would happen?

Every mill in the whole world would slow down, and every large concern would close until it could replace its accounts, its statistical material, its formulas for work, its measures, its tables and its computing machinery.

Every submarine would try to guess its way to the nearest coast. Every ship on the seven seas would be stricken with blindness and would wallow helpless, awaiting the probable starvation of its human burden. Not a rivet would be driven in a skyscraper in New York city, because the steel girders would have lost their numbers; Wall street would close its portals; the engineering world would awaken tomorrow morning to a living death; the mines would shut down and trade would relapse to a condition of barter as in the days of savagery.

Wash Day in Switzerland.

In some remote parts of Switzerland wash day comes but twice a year. The Alpine peasant woman is too busy working the crops and tending the cattle in the summer to do the washing, and in the winter it is too cold, so she does it in bulk in the spring and fall. She takes her turn for several days among the other women of the neighborhood at the community tub, which is filled with water piped down from a glacier. Near by big copper kettles are skillets over fires built on the ground in order that she may have hot water to help loosen the dirt which, in most cases, is thoroughly ground into the garments. They do not rub the clothes but, after soaping, throw them against an inclined board.

POSTAL IMPROVEMENT WEEK IS OBSERVED

May 1 Sees Inaugurated First General Campaign of Kind in Service.

Without the Postal Service, business would languish in a day, and be at a standstill in a week. Public opinion would die of dry rot. Sectional hatred or prejudice only would flourish, and narrow-mindedness thrive.

It is the biggest distinctive business in the world and it comes nearer to the innermost interests of a greater number of men and women than any other institution on earth. No private business, however widespread, touches so many lives so often or so sharply; no church reaches into so many souls, soothes so many pulses, has so many human beings dependent on its ministrations.

"Postal Improvement Week" has been set for May 1, by the Postmaster General. This is the first general campaign of its kind in the Postal Service for several decades. Business men and their organizations, large users of the mail, newspapers, motion pictures, advertisers, and the entire organization of 324,000 postal workers are to be enlisted in this country-wide campaign of "improved" postal improvements. Your help is vital. Address your letters plainly with pen or typewriter. Give street address. Spell out name of State, don't abbreviate. Put your return address in the upper left hand corner of envelope (not on the back) and always look at your letter before dropping in the mail to see if it is properly addressed. This care in the use of the mails is for your benefit and speeds up the dispatch and delivery of mail matter.

If you have any complaints of poor service make them to your postmaster. He has instructions to investigate them and report to the department.

COURTESY

It sticks in human relations like postage stamps on letters. The POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT expects it to be used by its postmasters and employees in dealing with the public.

Help them in its use beginning with POSTAL IMPROVEMENT WEEK, May 1-6, 1922.

"Here Come The Elephants!"

Do you remember how you used to be on the job bright and early to see the circus parade? Remember how you thrilled as the lions, tigers, and the big, lumbering elephants passed in review? How the horses, the blare of the bands, the antics of the clowns, and the glitter of it all inspired you with a fervid inspiration to see the real show—the big performance in the tent?

You didn't realize it then, but you were getting a lot out of an attractive advertisement.

Perhaps you don't realize it now, but other advertisements, just as attractive, just as interesting and far more valuable to you, parade daily before you in the columns of this paper.

The merchants and makers of everything you want or need, here display before you their most attractive wares. It is truly "the greatest show on earth."

The whole purpose of any advertisement is to excite your curiosity, gain your interest, arouse your desire; to tell you something you don't know; to remind you of something you have forgotten; to convince you of something over which you have been hesitating.

In short, the purpose of an advertisement is, in one way or another, to make you happier.

Sir Ernest's Story.

Sir Ernest Shackleton was always fond of a good story. Here is one that he used to tell about himself. "A gushing lady had been introduced to him and began at once to talk about his voyages. 'I always think,' she said, 'that one must have such wonderful dreams while leading that kind of life.' 'Beautiful dreams, indeed,' said Sir Ernest. 'Oh, do tell me, now, what you used to dream about in the Antarctic?' 'Treacle pudding,' answered the explorer.—London Tit-Bits.

WITHOUT STREET ADDRESS YOUR MAIL IS DELAYED AT OFFICE OF DELIVERY

The Dead Letter Office has been in existence ever since Ben Franklin started our postal service. Even then people addressed mail to Mr. Ezekiel Smithers, "Atlantic Ocean," and expected Ben to know just where Zeke lived.

Perhaps they had Zeke's address in letters up in the garret, maybe a chest full of 'em, but then it was easier to let Ben hunt Zeke. Today people are addressing letters to John Smith, New York, N. Y., or Chicago, Ill., thinking Uncle Sam can locate him, which is just as incomplete as was Zeke's address of yore. The Postoffice Department asks you to put the number and street in the address. It helps you.

Trinidad Col.

How do you expect the Postal Clerk to know whether you mean Trinidad, California, or Trinidad, Colorado?

ALWAYS SPELL OUT THE NAME OF THE STATE IN FULL IN THE ADDRESS.

"MORE BUSINESS IN GOVERNMENT"

This apt phrase was used in President Harding's first message to Congress and applies particularly in postal management where postmasters are being impressed with the fact that they are managers of local branches of the biggest business in the world.

HERE COMES A STRANGER!

Let's make our post office look neat. Mr. Postmaster, straighten up the rural letter box. Mr. Farmer, tidy up, some. Mr. Rural Carrier, first impressions are lasting. Maybe Mr. Stranger, taking notice of these improvements, will come back, bringing you benefits. Start these with "POSTAL IMPROVEMENT WEEK" May 1-6.

HUMANIZING THE POSTAL SERVICE

"There is no unimportant person or part of our service. It is a total of human units and their co-operation is the key to its success. In its last analysis, postal duties are accommodations performed for our neighbors and friends and should be so regarded, rather than as a hired service performed for an absentee employer." Postmaster General Hubert Work.

Whale Can't Breathe Under Water. The whale who, because he lives in the water, is often supposed to be a member of the fish family, is in reality no more one than is a human being. He is in reality an animal very much like a cow or a horse, and his flesh is real animal flesh, nothing whatever like that of a fish. And like all other mammals, he cannot remain under water without an occasional trip to the surface.

Blow for the Minister. In a certain church one of the duties of the old sexton was to pump the organ. The man was deaf and perhaps on that account had fallen into the somewhat embarrassing habit of abruptly quitting his task before a hymn was ended. One Sunday a new minister was coming, and since he was young and unmarried, the young lady who played the organ naturally wanted to appear to the best advantage. As soon as the service had begun she wrote a note and, handing it to the sexton, told him to read it at once. Evidently the old man did not correct his words, for to her horror she saw him go to the applier right after the first hymn and hand him the note. The minister opened it and read: "Keep playing steadily away until I tell you to stop."—Youth's Companion.

Did Well With Crude Instruments. Long before the Christian era instruments were made for the measurement of angles on the principle of the subdivision of the circle. This the ancient Egyptians laid out their lands on the banks of the fertilizing Nile. The instruments were crude because "the long result of time" had not yet perfected them, but they answered their purpose well enough to enable Eratosthenes, 250 years B. C., to measure the circumference of the round earth.

FRESH FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

You'll always find that our stock of these is the latest the market affords. Drop into the store often and watch the counters. Then, too, we always have

POSTMISTRESS AT GRASSFLAT

Miss Ethel O. Lakin has been appointed postmistress at Grassflat Post office, a third class office in Clearfield County, Pa. She is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lakin and belongs to an old and well known Clearfield County family. She did such efficient work for two years as assistant to Postmaster J. O. Lakin that her petition for the appointment showed the support of every business man in the town, as well as of the citizens generally.

Miss Elizabeth Read of Pine Grove spent the week and with friends in town.

ALBERT CAMPBELL

Albert Campbell, first tenor of the Sterling Trio and Peerless Quartet, is a New Yorker by birth, education and taste. He is an old minstrel man but has gained undying fame thru his duets with Henry Burr.

HENRY BURR

Known the world over as a singer of tuneful and sentimental ballads. His is an art that never fails to please. Duets, too, with Campbell, a member of the Sterling Trio and Peerless Quartet.

BILLY MURRAY

According to the opinion of many who have heard him, he is the funniest man in the world. Certainly he has no equal as a singer of topical songs. Next to singing he loves baseball best.

FRANK CROXTON

Basso of the Peerless Quartet, has spent many years on the concert platform, and is especially famous as an oratorio singer. Big of stature, he has a voice of corresponding size.

THE DRIGGS THEATRE

CLEARFIELD, PA.

Tuesday Evening, at 8:15, May 9th, '22

This famous aggregation will play a limited number of engagements in the United States this season. You have known them for years through their Victor records; this is your first and perhaps your last chance to hear them all on one program. An evening of genuine musical entertainment.

EACH ONE A STAR

Not one of them has a rival in his own specialty. Such an aggregation of talent on one program is very unusual. Certainly their equal has never appeared on any concert or vaudeville program in this city.

JOHN MEYER

Baritone of the Sterling Trio and the Peerless Quartet, gained his first experience as a church singer; he is a talented pianist, and will be heard in piano duets with Frank Banta. Has composed several popular songs.

MONROE SILVER

Here is "Cohen" himself. He will stand before you and tell the various experiences of New York's famous East Side; and only the deaf fail to laugh when Monroe Silver tells a story.

FRED VAN EPS

Van Eps probably knows more about the banjo than any living man. Not only is he a wizard of the banjo, but he makes all of his own instruments. He attributes his virtuoso skill to hard work, and plenty of it.

FRANK BANTA

Frank Banta, the pianist and accompanist, has specialized in that class of music known as "Jazz." His skill is truly remarkable, and nobody is more versatile in devising new rag-time effects at the keyboard.

THE ROVER

By George Randolph Chester

HURDY GURDY FINANCE

round and the pathetic little rickety switchback. John Ames saw a doll-like young girl standing uncertainly alone, with the sunlight shimmering on her curly hair.

In the next instant, half a dozen stouthy young men, undersized but swaggering, swept from the corner of the dilapidated Fretzel garden, and surrounded her.

"Hello, Cutie," said one of the mob, the one with the ugly scar across his mouth.

They all laughed, and prepared to take part in this entertaining new game, but the girl, too frightened to scream, darted her way through them like a golden reel, and, seeing nowhere else to go, ran straight towards tall John Ames, fixing on him the roundest blue eyes he had ever seen.

There was not much opportunity for a thrilling rescue. The Mud Creek gang made a comprehensive estimate of the athletic-looking, black-haired stranger, and swaggered away, pretending to laugh in a carefree, light-hearted manner.

Events followed rather precipitately. An iron-pawed, thick-bodied man, with a leg and an arm on each side of him, rushed from behind the switch-back, dashed into the Mud Creek gang, singled out the young man with the ugly scar on his mouth, grabbed him by the back of his coat collar, and pelted him in the ear with a fist which was crowded with big, rough knuckles.

A close-cropped, full beard, topping a short, solid, prosperous-looking man, came running across the grounds from the popcorn stand.

"Daddy!" cried the golden-haired one, deserting the arm of John Ames, to which she had clung, for a frightened instant, and ran towards the beard.

A procession passed, consisting of the iron-pawed man, the conductor of the merry-go-round, two tough waiters and the "barker" for the fortune-teller booth, all kicking the leader of the Mud Creek gang towards the front gate.

"Thank you," said the beard to John Ames. The portion of face which was visible was white with anger, as he drew the arm of his daughter through his own.

"I'm glad to have been here," returned Ames pleasantly. He felt, rather than saw, the absolutely round blue eyes fixed on him, and it was their blueness more than their helplessness which he afterwards remembered.

Having strained himself to remember the courtesies of the occasion, the beard whirled, and had started on a bee-line for home when the iron-jawed man hurried back, a little out of breath.

"That's a rotten shame, Mr. House-ton," he abjectly apologized. "It's a new gang, and they were never out here on Monday before. They won't."

The keen eyes above the beard—they were blue, too—slightly glared at the iron-jawed man, and then went away.

"Now he won't come back any more!" gruffly mourned the iron-jawed man.

Ames looked after the retreating beard with a frown of condemnation. "They shouldn't have been here," he criticized.

The iron-jawed man inspected Ames slowly before he answered. "Why not?" he growled. "This is a respectable place on Monday afternoons."

"You're the proprietor, I take it?" he guessed.

"Joe Wilks," was the answer, not untinted with a certain aggressive claim on respect.

"You should make this place pay," he advised. "This town is prosperous, and it needs a good recreation park."

"If you show me how to make it pay, I'll cut you in on it," gloomily promised the proprietor.

Mrs. Sarah E. Shaw died at the home of her daughter Mrs. Lewis Reid, in Paradise at 6:45 Sunday afternoon. Obituary and funeral announcement later.

MCPHERSON

Mrs. Elizabeth McPherson, widow of the late Thomas McPherson, passed away suddenly just after noon on Saturday, April 29, 1922, at her home near Montgomery. Lawrence township. Mrs. McPherson was a daughter of the late Andrew Addleman and Margaret, his wife, and was 77 years of age. She is survived by four children, Margaret, wife of Latimer R. Gulich, of this place; Ida, Belle and Powell at home, and by one brother J. A. Addleman of Farmville, Virginia and one sister, Mrs. Emma Sellers, of Bellefonte, South Dakota.

The funeral services will be held at her late home at 10 o'clock a. m. Wednesday afternoon in the Centre Cemetery, near Hyde.

HIP WAS NOT BROKEN

Alex Wallace, the Lawrence township mountaineer, who fell and hurt his leg at the corner of Second and Locust streets Saturday morning, was not so seriously hurt as at first thought. The X-ray examination showed that no bones were broken altho the hip and thigh was badly bruised. His injury will keep the old fellow confined to the hospital for several days, however.

REV. REEVE OVERCOME

Rev. Dr. E. C. Reeve was taken sick last evening in the midst of his sermon at the Presbyterian church and was forced to discontinue his remarks. He was taken with a severe pain in the back of the head, but rallied quickly and is feeling alright today.

The Grand Jury for May term of Criminal Court began its deliberations this morning. The criminal list for this term contains a total of 137 cases.

The first week of May term of civil court also opened this morning with Judge Bell presiding.

Criminal Court will begin on Monday, May 15th.

Ex-Sheriff Anthony M. Gorman was appointed foreman of the Grand Jury by Judge Bell.

A surprise dance was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wall Wednesday, April 26th in honor of Mrs. Wall's birthday. A number of guests were present. At a late hour refreshments were served. All report a good time and wish Mrs. Wall many happy returns of the day.

Dr. J. Paul Frantz and family who had been visiting friends and relatives in Philadelphia for several days returned home Sunday evening.

George Alex Bell just returned from Los Angeles, Cal., where he spent the winter and had an unsuccessful try out as an umpire in the Coast League.

Miss Mary A. Conner, of Burnside is visiting friends in town.

ATTENDEN FUNERAL

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Speerbrecker and Mrs. Stanvise, of Youngstown, Ohio; Arnold Imdorf, of Cleveland, Ohio; Mrs. Henry Imdorf, Sr., of Ridgeway; Mr. and Mrs. David James and Mrs. John Croyle, of Dixonville, were called to Clearfield to attend the funeral of Mrs. Henry Imdorf, who died suddenly at her home in Cleveland, Ohio, on Friday last as the result of an attack of pneumonia.

STOP ITCHING ECZEMA

Penetrating, Antiseptic Zemo Will Help You

Never mind how often you have tried and failed, you can stop burning, itching Eczema quickly by applying Zemo furnished by any druggist for 35c. Extra large bottle, $1.00. Healing begins the moment Zemo is applied. In a short time usually every trace of Eczema, Tetter, Pimples, Rash, Blackheads and similar skin diseases will be removed.

For clearing the skin and making it vigorously healthy, always use Zemo, the penetrating, antiseptic liquid. When others fail it is the one dependable treatment for skin troubles of all kinds.

HIGH PRIESTS OF

JAZZ COMING

Those who like their music swift, tantalizing and riotous will be pleased to hear that the McDougal Alley Syncopators, the high priests of jazz princes of syncopation, and owners of the "laughing trombones" and "giggling clarinets" are coming to the Driggs Theatre Monday evening, May 8th with the Greenwich Village Follies, the unique revue which mirrors the goings-on in New York's widely discussed Bohemian community.

HAVE THOSE THINGS

CLEANED BEFORE

STORING

The time is here when you will store your heavy winter clothing and the best thing that you can do with them is to have them cleaned before you store them.

The chance of moths getting into them is much less if you have them cleaned and then put them away right afterward. Then, there's the satisfaction of having them ready when you want them next fall.

YOUR KODAK AND CIRCUS DAY

That's a great combination for the kodak enthusiast. There are opportunities galore for the "snapper" to get some real pictures.

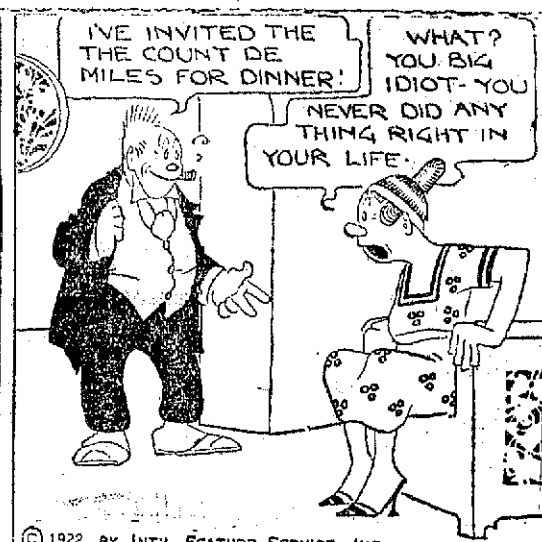

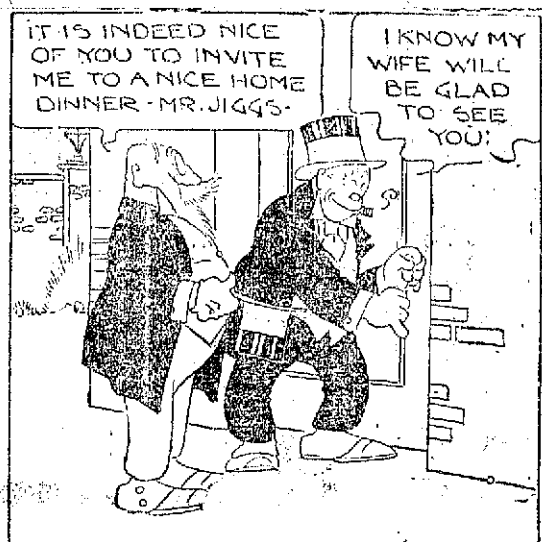

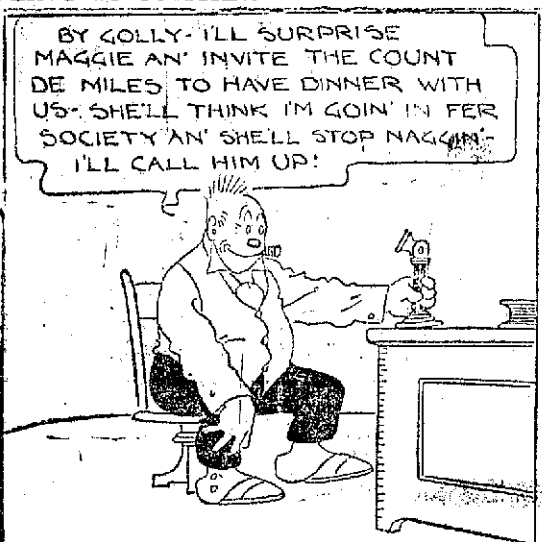

And the joy of "you should have seen this on circus day" or "this was a funny thing" or anything else that meets your fancy will be doubly valuable if you have a pictorial history of it for the years to come.

We have all the popular size Eastman Kodaks and everything else that goes with the making of good pictures. Look over the window and see the great array.

RUMMAGE SALE

The second week in May, exact days to be announced later, the Red Cross will hold a Rummage Sale in their room, opposite Leib's Drug store, Curwensville. The object is to raise funds to carry on health and relief work in our own town. There will be for sale for a small sum of money, clothing, millinery, books, ornaments and all articles of household furniture. To make this sale possible we ask all women, now engaged in the delightful task of house cleaning to add to their pleasure and relief by donating to the Red Cross all those articles which they clean and reclean from year to year, and then put in storage until another renovating season comes around. This will save a lot of nerves and strength worn to a frazzle, provide some one with just the thing they needed, for a small price and benefit the Red Cross Health Fund. Certain days will be set apart for the reception of articles contributed.

Monday evening, May 1, at 8 o'clock will be the monthly meeting of Red Cross women. All attend. Business of importance.

Value of Varnish Long Known.
Varnish as a preservative, made from gum, is by no means modern, for a so-called varnish was entombed in wrappings around mummies when they were first laid away in ancient Egypt. And in the nineteenth century B. C. temples on Thebes were decorated with paintings in which varnish had its part. The magnetic quality found in amber was long ago supposed to lend firmness of tone to violins which were varnished with a mixture of amber and alcohol. Zanzibar gum is the latest approach to amber in its uses, and often beautiful bugs are found embedded within its clear substance. Such a curious thing as the tail of a chipmunk with each half of it in the breeze has been found embedded in Zanzibar gum.

Pitcairn Island
Pitcairn island has an area of about two miles square. The population now is said to be about 220. The natural food resources of the island, chiefly fruits, fishes and wild birds, probably would support a population of five hundred. The island has no mail course with the outside world, with the exception of an occasional letter from a passing ship.

Shocks Caused by Moods

Shocks cause moods. Every shock calls up all the memories caused by former shocks of the same nature and excites the passion it is connected with. Moods, then, are not only a shock, but a reminder of a shock. A strong mood will always supplant a weaker one. Some of the shocks of high intensity, as anger will fall while a mood of lower intensity, but greater persistence such as love, is in progress. The anger mood looks out the love mood, and only anger memories and moods rule the mind. At length these grow weak and disappear and the love mood with its moods and anguishes, return to thought—its change.

Curious Scales Used in Ecuador

A short stick carrying a suspended pan at each end and held up by a cord about the center is the common trade balance of Ecuador. The weight is a rock about the size of a man's fist and the same size the stones are used. The price for a commodity is almost never fixed and as the Ecuadorian is always prepared and expects to come down some what from his first price. It speaks worlds for his optimism that he invariably gets more. A bargaining does not actually begin until you have decided the first price and asked, "What is the last price?"

Wrong Belief Concerning Hebrew

Less than two centuries ago even men of learning believed that Hebrew was the original language, and that all other languages were offshoots from it. It has since been discovered that Hebrew was a dead language in the time of Jesus and that modern language has been derived from it, not even Yiddish.

Have You Sick Headache? Backache? Are You Nervous?

Advice For Women Young or Old

Doverette, Pa.—I can highly recommend Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription to women of middle age. During middle life my health failed very rapidly. I went down so that I was just able to be around. I suffered with sick headaches, also had backaches and was extremely nervous. I was in a miserable condition when I began taking the Favorite Prescription, but I soon began to get strong and in time I got rid of all my headaches. My health then improved and I passed thru this critical period in a good healthy condition.—Mrs. Mary D. Knisely, R. 1 D. No. 1.

Health brings beauty. Get well and strong now by obtaining this "Prescription" of Dr. Pierce's of your druggist in tablets or liquid. Send 10c to Dr. Pierce, President Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., for a trial package.

Soft Music Aids the Girls.

Music store clerks say that grandma and grandpa keep up to date with the jazz and the syncopated stuff. It is the sixteen-year-old granddaughter who plays "When You and I Were Young, Maggie," on the phonograph for her beau, and gazes soulfully into his eyes as the music weeps forth. NEVER before has the amazing Knight sleeve-valve motor been available in so fine a car at so low a price. Europe uses the Knight motor in her most famous and expensive cars. Now Willys engineering, Willys quantity production, put it in the reach of all in a car equally famous, but far less costly.

The Motor

The Willys-Knight motor is the highest development of the Knight sliding sleeve-valve principle. It gets more power out of less gas than any other motor of its size and weight. It is free from valve trouble, free from carbon trouble, smooth, quiet, flexible. Scientific tests and driver experience show that it grows more powerful with use. And its life-limit has never yet been ascertained.

The Car

The Willys-Knight Car is especially designed to match the motor in long life and distinction. Graceful, refined, dignified, its sturdy steel chassis beats off jolts and jars and holds the body permanently free from rattles and squeaks. Vigilant springs translate the roll of the road into undulating ease. It is fleet, comfortable, responsible—and a sound investment.

Stradivarius Violins.

Stradivarius was born in 1644 and died in 1737. He worked until he was over ninety years of age and turned out a large number of violins and violoncellos. Altogether, according to estimates, about one thousand violins and about three hundred other instruments are attributed to him. These other instruments include different kinds of viols, some bass viols and also some lutes, guitars and mandolins, very exquisitely wrought. The label in a genuine Stradivarius instrument is supposed to have been made of paper. Only an expert can distinguish a genuine instrument.

Olive Brought Here From Mexico.

The olive was brought into the United States from Mexico by the early Franciscan fathers and propagated from mission to mission as they progressed northward. The gold rush came, bringing its flood of travelers from southern Europe demanding their accustomed ration of olive oil. Good prices stimulated visions of untold wealth in the minds of the western pioneers, resulting in an olive planting boom. In 1835 there were fewer than 50,000 olive trees in America. Twelve years later there were 2,000,000, planted for the most part according to European traditions on waste land and not irrigated, and of small varieties in many cases, only suitable for crushing into oil.

WAR CONTINUES TO RAGE IN CHINA BETWEEN REBELS AND GOVERNMENT FORCES—FOREIGN NATIONS PROTEST

Train Containing American Embassy Secretary Atherton, Seeking Safety, Is Turned Back By Warring Armies And Powers Enter Formal Protest To Chinese Government.

ADDITIONAL U. S. FORCES TO CHINA

Peking, China, May 1.—Forces of General Chang Tso Lin, fighting with those of General Wu Pei Fu for control of Peking, turned back a train which was carrying American Embassy Secretary Atherton from Peking to Mukden. Foreign powers have forwarded a protest to Chang against his action in blocking the railways. They charge it is a violation of the protocol with the foreign nations of 1900.

Washington, D. C., May 1.—An additional force of 127 American sailors, 23 marines and 6 officers from the United States cruiser Albany have reached Peking to guard American interests in the present civil war in China. This force is to strengthen the American legation guard at Peking, which numbers about 400. A request has been made for another American gunboat to be sent to Tientsin to protect American interests there.

MINERS' TRIALS ARE COSTING BIG SUM

Charleston, West Va., May 1.—The miners' treason trials here growing out of the Logan County mine war last summer are costing the United Mine Workers $2000 a day. In addition the United Mine Workers have also put up large sums as bail for these miners. This battle of wealth against the coal operators, coming simultaneously with the coal strike and considered with the possibility of adverse decisions by the Supreme Court of damage claims is taking the financial condition of the organization, it was admitted.

AMERICAN OFFICER SHOT BY GERMANS

Mayence, Germany, May 1.—An American officer was shot in the shoulder and his chauffeur was beaten by May Day demonstrators here today. The crowd, angered when the American officer's automobile was driven through their marching column, attacked him. The American drew a revolver and a struggle ensued in which he and the chauffeur were injured.

GENOA CONFERENCE AGAIN NEARS ROCKS OF DISAGREEMENT

Genoa, Italy, May 1.—The Genoa conference may break up immediately after Wednesday's plenary session unless the Russians indicate some quick solution of their problems is possible. The sub-committee met to continue its discussions regarding Russia but with no indication that the Soviet delegation was disposed to accept the Allies' note. The question of the advisability of continuing the conference beyond Wednesday was discussed.

RELIEF BEING SENT FLOOD SUFFERERS

Natchez, Miss., May 1.—Arrangements are being made here to rush food to Frogmore, Louisiana, where 1000 Mississippi flood refugees are marooned. The flood victims are living on scaffolds and are in dire need of food, according to H. B. Connor who is directing relief work in concordia parish, in which Frogmore is situated. Plans are being made to remove the refugees to refuge camps and power boats are expected to begin picking them up today.

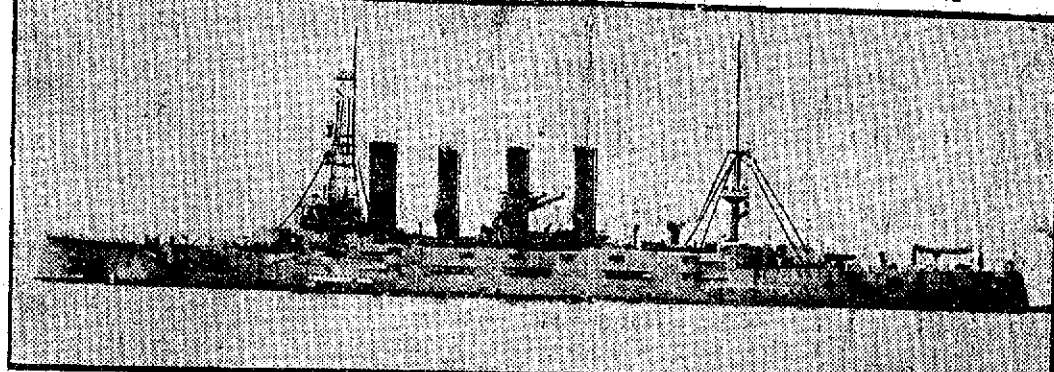

DENBY ASKS FOR GREATER NAVY

Washington, D. C., May 1.—Secretary of the Navy Denby today asked the Senate Appropriations Committee to increase the navy appropriations bill for 1923 by $28,166,000. Denby said the increase would be essential to the proper conduct of a navy of 86,000 men.

Indiana In Limelight By Reason Of Important Senatorial Primary

Indianapolis, Ind., May 1.—Indiana will go to the polls tomorrow to render its verdict on President Harding's administration. A vote will be taken on Senatorial nominees in which contest Harry S. New, one of Harding's chosen friends is seeking the nomination against Albert J. Beveridge. Senator New stands squarely upon the record of President Harding and the record of the present Congress in which he has played an important part. Senator Beveridge says he will support Harding, but Beveridge has a few policies of his own and the "old Guard" fears he would wreck Congress, if elected, like the bull wrecked the china shop.

LOCAL HIGH RACERS HAVE HARD LUCK AT PENN RELAY RACES

Going Along Fine, With Good Chance For Second Place, When Jinx Downs Runner.

TORRENCE SHINES

Old Demon Hard Luck, (and this is no Alibi like tale) pursued our Clearfield High School athletes at the National Championship relay race, at Philadelphia Saturday afternoon, and when the double cross-eyed Jinx got through with us, instead of resting securely in second place, as we expected a few seconds before the finish our boys were completely out of it.

Clearfield Hi's team was made up of Torrence, Smith, Batcheller and McKenrick. When the mile relay was called representatives of nine Penn and High Schools throughout the U. S. A. took their places in line. They were off at the pistol shot and the red and black of old Clearfield High was carried over the finish line of the first quarter ahead of all the rest by the incomparable Torrence.

Jimmie Smith took up the burden of the second round, but found two fellows in the line up speedier than he was and turned the flag over to George Batcheller in third place. "Batch" ran a fine race and finished third but held his own manfully throughout the heat.

McKenrick, our other State champion, was in fine fettle for the final lap and was stepping along with second place almost within his grasp when he truck the concrete curb along the track and losing his balance tumbled to the ground one hundred yards from the finish.

The race was won by Germantown High in 3:27 with Harrisburg Tech. second.

In addition to the runners mentioned, Hensyl Johnson, sub, and Coach Crane made up the Clearfield team, Principal Kopp, who is in charge of the Athletic arrangements remaining at home.

BATHING POOL MINISTER GIVEN SEVERE MAULING

Lawton, Okla., May 1.—The Lawton swimming pool wedding church feud became more bitter today as a result of the kidnapping and black-jacking of Rev. Thomas Irvin, gun totin' Presbyterian pastor, who performed the ceremony. Rev. Irvin was bound hand and foot and left lying overnight in the mud and rain near where he married the couple in their bathing suits. Irvin who is resting at his home here today told this story of the kidnapping: "I started home Saturday night after a visit with a member of my congregation and was walking down a side street. All of a sudden something struck me on the head and after that I did not know what happened for some time."

INCENDIARY FIRE DAMAGES BARN OF ABE ROBINSON

Bunch Of Excelsior And Kindling Put Against Building And Match Applied Last Evening.

SEEN BY NEIGHBOR

An incendiary attempt was made to burn the barn on the lower end of the Abe Robinson lot on Cherry street last night about 11 o'clock. A large quantity of excelsior and kindling was placed against the door of the Cherry street side of the building and a match put to it. The fire was blazing up menacingly and had already communicated with the door when Mrs. William Hoffman, who lives next door to Robinson's, noticing the reflection of the blaze against her bedroom window, arose and saw the fire at the barn.

Mrs. Hoffman gave the alarm and Mr. Robinson and other neighbors succeeded in quenching the flames before much damage was done.

It was a narrow escape from a serious fire as there are two frame houses, four other frame barns and the Fullington Jitney bus garage in close proximity to where the fire was planted its inflammable and lit his match.

Mr. Robinson has a strong suspicion as to the identity of the incendiary and will turn that information over to the local police and State Fire Marshal's department for investigation.

BOWERYITES HAVE FINE PLAY GROUNDS NOW IN THE MAKING

One of the most interesting results of the efforts of Clearfield Community Service to increase the play facilities of the city has been in the transformation that is taking place in the vacant lot at the corner of N 4th and Reed streets. Under the direction of Hobart Callahan the boys of the neighborhood were out in force on Saturday and raked and leveled up the lot, a team from the Bottling Works helped in removing some of the rails and heavy material, while men from the Harbison-Walker Co. and the Clearfield Machine Shops helped in putting the place in shape. The various concerns that have stored old machinery, wagons, etc., on the lot have promised to remove them this week, and the crowded space between piles of junk where the boys have been trying to play ball the past week or so will become a large clean play space. It is planned to have a base ball diamond, volley ball court and space for quoit pitching, with the supervision of the lot in the hands of a committee of the neighbors. There are a number of vacant lots in the city where this example could be followed to advantage.

SCHOOL CLOSED

AT WILLIAMSDALE
A very successful term of school closed at Williamsdale on Thursday April 27th with a delightful play by the teacher and scholars in the evening. A small fee was taken at the door and the proceeds to go to the Goshen M. E. church. Miss Georgia Dodd as teacher was very satisfactory in school work. She left for her home in Penfield on Saturday.

FOREST FIRES ARE CREATING HAVOC NORTH OF TOWN

Upper Trout Run Country Devastated By Fire Which Has Been Burning Past Three Days.

MORE FIRES TODAY

A very destructive forest fire raged for several days last week on the headwaters of big Trout Run on the mountains north of town and burned over several hundred acres of woods land before the fire fighting forces marshalled by State Forester William F. Dague could get the fire under control.

Saturday evening it was reported that the fire was surrounding the Crooked Run Camp and hunting territory and a bunch of Crooked Run fellows drove out to assist the fire fighters already on the job. They left Clearfield at 10:30 and word from the mountains at noon Sunday stated that the fire was under control.

This fire started along the banks of Trout Run and was no doubt due to the carelessness or worse, of some trout fishermen. It was a very destructive fire and should serve to make trout fishermen and all those who go into the woods very careful of fire in the future.

Forester Dauge had several large crews out continuously the past three or four days and nights and thought he had the fires in the Trout Run country subdued, but this morning a fire was reported between Medix and Trout Runs, while just before dinner another blaze was discovered in the Trout Run section just beyond Goshen.

Men were hurriedly sent out to fight this latest blaze, which is thought to have been of incendiary origin. In fact it begins to look as though these fires are being deliberately set out and a strong patrol will be sent to the mountain in the hope of capturing some of the fire bugs.

A fire bug suspect has been rounded up in one of the sections where several fires have occurred this spring and an arrest is looked for in this and another case or two before the week is out.

EAST END KIDDIES ENJOY STORY HOUR

The school children of the East End, with their younger brothers and sisters, responded in crowds to the announcement of a story telling hour at the 4th Ward Schoolhouse on Saturday morning under the Clearfield Community Service group of story tellers. There were so many that half of them played games in the school yard while the others heard the stories. Mrs. H. P. Reed and Mrs. Don Gingery told the stories, while Miss Catherine Thorne, Miss Laura John, Miss Susannah Rucker and Miss Jury assisted Miss Haire in the program of games. A similar program will be given in the 3rd Ward school next Saturday morning.

Mrs. R. E. Dale, of Bigler was a Clearfield visitor Saturday.
Mrs. W. C. Cowdick of Pine Grove shopped in town Saturday.
Mrs. W. C. Thompson is a surgical patient at the Clearfield Hospital.

BUSINESS CONDITIONS ARE IMPROVING, ACCORDING TO COMMERCE DEPARTMENT IN STATEMENT MADE PUBLIC TODAY

Report Says Retail Prices Continue To Decline, Index To The Cost Of Living Showing Three Point Drop During Month Of March—No Immediate Boom Looked For.

RECONSTRUCTION IN EUROPE IS SLOW

Washington, D. C., May 1.—Business conditions are improving and the export trade also shows an increase, the Commerce Department announced today. Manufacturing enterprises are working on good schedules. The Department said the figures, however, are not sufficiently complete to show how great the increased activities of the factories reflect buying by the public.

Washington, D. C., May 1.—Retail prices continue to decline, the report said. The index of the cost of living showing a drop of three points during March, the greatest decrease was in the cost of food. Both the wholesale and retail trade was spotty, but with an evident improvement over preceding weeks. From figures available it is clear the fundamental conditions are much better and there is every reason to expect business to improve steadily, although perhaps slowly. With world conditions as they are today there is no likelihood of an immediate boom movement. Reconstruction in Europe is far behind what it is in this country.

TWO WOMEN SAID TO BE SUSPECTS IN THE BRUNEN HOMICIDE

Mount Holly, N. J., May 1.—The names of two women who are implicated in the murder of John T. Brunen, circus owner, slain in his home in Riverside, N. J., March 19, will soon be made public. This announcement was made by County Detective Parker after he had checked up on Harry Mohr, brother-in-law of the slain showman, who with Charles Powell is in jail here. He said that Mohr who is married has been leading a double life and that the woman whose names he will reveal today had a direct bearing on the slaying.

GAME AND FISH LAW VIOLATORS SUFFER

Deputy State Game Protector W. J. Davis, of Clearfield was quite active in several sections of the county the past week. On Wednesday last he arrested members of the Tom & John gypsy caravan, near Houtzdale for shooting birds and Squire John Scollins fined the Gypsy $40 and $11 costs.

Thursday Game Warden Davis prosecuted Dan Warfield of Rosebud before Squire George Askew and Warfield paid $25 and costs for his dog running deer.

Friday Davis captured F. R. Maurer, of Patton fishing in Deer Run, without a license. He paid $25 and costs.

Friday afternoon Davis "wheeled" over to Mahoning Creek, near Gypsy, Indiana county and found G. R. Webster fishing without a license. Webster also added $25 to the Fisheries Department.

Orms Steigers, of Rosebud, was found with two grey squirrels in his possession, which he had trapped. He paid $20 for his violation of the law and the squirrels were released.

$20,000 FIRE AT UNIVERSAL

Pittsburgh, Pa., May 1.—The general store of Frank Romanko and five residences were destroyed by fire at Universal, Pa., early today. The loss is estimated at $20,000. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Release Is Granted To Suspect In Hoopetown Murder Mystery Case

Hoopetown, Ill., May 1.—A post mortem over the body of the murdered Gertrude Hanna was held in an effort to identify her slayer. Male friends of the teacher whose body was found in the basement of the United Presbyterian church were examined. The attorneys interested in the case returned here from Danville the county seat and sifted the evidence which had been collected by John Bogard, Chief of Police. They say they have no evidence on which to hold John Wyman, the thirty-five year old farmer, who confessed to being the girl's betrayer for the murder.

Russian Recognition Is Rapidly Becoming Issue For Our People

Washington, D. C., May 1.—The question of whether the United States should recognize the Soviet government of Russia as the result of the Genoa Economic Conference is rapidly becoming an issue which will demand the attention of this country. The statement in Chicago of Samuel Gompers, President of the American Federation of Labor, warning against dangerous Russian propaganda in the United States to bring about recognition of Russia by the United States, has done more than anything to bring the matter to the forefront. It is believed here that it is very doubtful if such recognition will be granted by the United States, at least for a long time, or until there has been a decided change in affairs in Russia.

FIVE KILLED IS SUNDAY AUTO TOLL

New York, N. Y., May 1.—Five killed, including a year-old baby, and many injured, was the week end toll in automobile accidents in this vicinity.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

It sure is too bad that Madeira is so far away. In that very satisfactory country everybody works but father, as that old jazz song used to have it. Father sits at home all day smoking his pipe and filling up on active drinks, while mother and the kids go out and rustle in the daily bread. The woman of Madeira works in the embroidery factories and when a rout, 30 per cent cut in wages, was made and the women began to talk strike the men folks wouldn't have it that way, but made the would be strikers accept the cut and keep right on working.

That alleged duplication of government bonds which some Congressmen appear to want to make a sensation over, does not exist, according to Secretary of the Treasury Mellon. What did occur is this: One of the numbering machines being used in Government printing office while the Liberty Bonds were being prepared slipped a cog during the printing of one of the Liberty bond issues, and recorded duplicate numbers, automatically correcting itself later. When one of these duplicates showed up, the Secret Service reported to the Department of Justice. As a result three employees of the Bureau of Printing and Engraving lost their jobs for failing to watch their machines, but the Government did not lose a penny and no bonds got out that were not paid for.

What seems the most picaresque piece of politics of the time is the action of the Internal Revenue Bureau in dealing with the Woodrow Wilson Foundation.

Through subscribers to the McKinley Memorial Association and the Roosevelt Memorial Association have the right to subtract the amount of their contributions in their income tax returns under the provision that makes contribution to educational organizations deductible, the subscribers to the Woodrow Wilson Foundation have been informed that no such privilege extends to them.

Woodrow Wilson is still the boggy man of the Republican Administration. Every time the former President is applauded the Administration has a nervous fit. This was manifest when Mr. Wilson indicated a desire to participate in the observances of the Unknown Soldier's interment, when for days Mr. Wilson was kept waiting for a reply and assignment to a place in the parade.

The announced pilgrimage of 5,000 women to Mr. Wilson's home has likewise filled the Republican sentiments with gloom and apprehension. It took a long time for the Internal Revenue Bureau to find a method by which they could make fish of memorials to Republicans who had occupied the White House and flesh of the Democrats, but they did it, after the subordinates had accepted the identity of the cases as a matter of course and had so reported promising formal corroboration of the verdict.

Before this formal word came, however, the "best minds" got busy and finally decided that while a body formed to erect and maintain monuments for Col. Roosevelt, with an endowment fund to promote his ideals, was an educational organization, a body formed for the purpose of endowing a fund to make awards to individuals who render conspicuous service to the advancement of Mr. Wilson's ideal of democracy (with a small "d"), and human freedom, was not purely educational under the statute.

Mixed Characteristics.
At a political gathering in England an orator waxing indignant said, "To ridicule the idea of this country being invaded is to follow the example of the camel, which buries its head in the sand when an enemy approaches." The rival speaker rose and retorted, "Surely the gentleman in giving utterance to this apothegm, must have meant to refer to the ostrich which, in those circumstances, has a habit of putting its eye through a needle."—Boston Transcript.

For Outings

The sport coat or middy is just the thing for outings. They must be in lip-stick red or jade or a very bright color. Note the button-holed collar of the middy and the patch pockets of the sport coat.

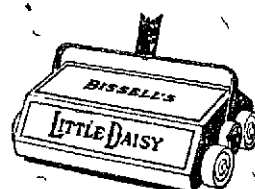

Perfect Alibi.
A small boy who is observant and an excellent liar, informed his mother that he was quizzed by his mother about a scratch she had just found on one of her pieces of furniture. He replied, "I didn't do that; can't you see it's only a toothmark?"

Coquette's Explanation.
A young man recently asked one of the opposite sex why girls so frequently become engaged to several fellows at once. "A smoker like you shouldn't have to ask that," she replied with a laugh. "When you have only one match, don't you generally go out?"—Boston Transcript.

At What Age Should You Take Needless Risks With Your Health?

Is that a queer question?

Then many people are doing a queer thing—and often it turns out to be a serious thing.

The Federal Bureau of Education says in its rules for the health of school children that children should not drink coffee or tea.

This rule is based on the well-known fact that the drug element in coffee and tea whips up the nerves, and that serious ills often follow.

If it's a good rule for children to keep away from the harm of nerve-stimulation, isn't it a good rule for everybody?

Think it over.

Granted that your body may stand more, can your judgment afford to risk more? Any doctor can tell you what coffee and tea often do to the health of adults as well as children.

There's no sacrifice in being safe. Postum is a delightful, satisfying mealtime beverage, wholesome and pleasant alike for adults and children. Postum has no age limits!

Your grocer has both forms of Postum: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for fully 20 minutes.

CURWENSVILLE SPECIAL

The Curwensville Realty Company is now a permanent organization and capitalized at $25,000. A meeting was held in the office of the Casper Coal Company, last Friday evening and the following corps of officers elected. President L. W. Spencer; Vice President Guy B. Clark; Secretary, Ralph Johnston. A full board of directors was also chosen. A charter has been applied for and as soon as it is approved and granted the company will be ready for business.

The main object of this organization will tend toward real estate, the building, buying and selling of houses to all those who desire to own their own homes, the erection of five new houses will be started right away and are already practically sold as soon as completed. Blocks of stock will be issued at $500 each and open to all who wish to invest. This organization is not antagonistic to the Curwensville B. & L. Association, but will endeavor to work in conjunction with that body, for the benefit of Curwensville. Curwensville has been badly in need of fifty or more houses for the past five years and now this new financial aid comes to the front to fill a long felt want and give a renewed impetus to the business interests of this town. The people heartily extend the hand of welcome and will assist the Realty company in their work.

Robert Atcheson the man who ran into Mr. Weisgarber with his auto at Stronach station last Sunday, left for Syracuse, N. Y., today driving his machine through to that point.

Lemuel H. Bilger on Friday sold his North street residence property to Blair Gates. Consideration $6,100. Mr. Bilger and wife leaves for Connecticut will spend some months with their daughter, Mrs. Wayne Robison.

H. A. Woodward returned from Elmira, N. Y., Friday to which city he been summoned by the serious illness of his mother, her age being 90 years. He was pleased to state that the aged lady was improving.

Henry Heitzman's mountain colts were again defeated on the Phillipsburg duck pin bowling alley last Friday evening by 31 points. A return game will come off on the home alley some evening during this week.

The Haymaker's cake walk held on the second floor of the new Elbert street garage instead of the Moose hall as advertised, was a drawing card Saturday night and rewarded the promoters quite well financially.

During the month of May a Methodist Sunday School rally will be inaugurated throughout the county. The school here has been asked to participate and use every effort to increase the attendance during the summer months of both youths and adults.

Sunday Pastor Dingman of the New Millport-Curwensville Lutheran church preached his farewell sermon to his flock of Grace Lutheran.

church. He removes to a charge in the eastern part of the state. His congregation in this place are sorry to see him depart from among them but unite in wishing him all kinds of success in his new field of labor.

An effort is being made by the members of the Methodist congregation, through entertainments and otherwise, to raise a fund of money by which the auditorium and other rooms of that edifice may be put in a more pleasing and delightful place to assemble for worship. The congregational room is entirely too dark and dismal and a hard vacuum for a minister to be heard clearly. There has been no improvements made to this room since the building of the church and the architect must have had in mind prison instead of church walls and decorations when he transcribed the blue prints. Already one lady has seen the need of renovation and has contributed the sum of $500 toward the fund. There are others connected with the church roll who could follow her example and never miss the sum from their exchequer. Perseverance will drill a tunnel through the highest mountain and that is what those interested in remodeling the church are going to do. "Keep tunneling" and working until an amount is raised to do the necessary work and make changes in conformity to what a place of worship ought to be.

Badger Villages.
Badgers live in burrows which they dig themselves and in some parts of the West these burrows are numerous in small areas, says the American Forestry Magazine. Although they were all the work of badgers, many of them had been dug to secure gophers, prairie marmots, mice and other rodents, upon which they prey. These burrows, often covering several acres, are a source of constant annoyance and danger to travelers on horseback.

Porridge Makes Scots' Sturdy.
Has porridge made Scots sturdy? New light has been thrown upon this subject by the discovery within the last few years that porridge may have a strong effect upon the mysterious pituitary gland—which is a small organ at the base of the brain, determining our size and physical characteristics. If this little chemical factory is too active we are liable to become giants; if it does not work hard enough we may be Tom Thumbs. Some doctors now say that porridge makes the gland work in such a way as to produce the high cheek bones and splendid bodies which are the trademark of the Scot.

"I Believe in Earning the Right to Exist by Living Constructively"

By MARTHA GROVES McKELVIE, Wife of Governor of Nebraska

It should cause no surprise that I am able to keep up a twenty-one room home without servants, prepare all of the family meals, tend to my child, and still do my best to attend to my social duties as wife of the governor of our state.

I run my home systematically, and have the housework done by 10 o'clock. Then instead of wondering what I will do to pass the time, I work on a rag rug, a big correspondence, cleaning closets, pressing clothes, or grooming myself, as all wives do, I suppose.

I answer about forty telephone calls each day and accept as many invitations as possible from people and organizations who will understand tardiness in a governor's wife when she says she is sorry but she had to put the laundry to soak.

I try to live up to the traditions of my ancestors, who believed in service and earning your own right to exist by living constructively.

I live three months of each year in the woods, primitively close to God's production and his clans, and this keeps me humble for the rest of the year, with my feet on the ground.

Business of the World Would Stop if Mathematics Were Wiped Out

By PROF. DAVID E. SMITH, Columbia University

Let us imagine, if we can, that by some mighty cataclysm, there should be wiped off the face of the earth tonight every book on mathematics, every mathematical symbol of every kind, every written page or written sheet on which a trace of mathematics appears, and every machine for computing or recording numbers. What would happen?

Every mill in the whole world would slow down, and every large concern would close until it could replace its accounts, its statistical material, its formulas for work, its measures, its tables and its computing machinery.

Every submarine would try to guess its way to the nearest coast. Every ship on the seven seas would be stricken with blindness and would wallow helpless, awaiting the probable starvation of its human burden. Not a rivet would be driven in a skyscraper in New York city, because the steel girders would have lost their numbers; Wall street would close its portals; the engineering world would awaken tomorrow morning to a living death; the mines would shut down and trade would relapse to a condition of barter as in the days of savagery.

Camera "Stops" Falling Wall

This snapshot shows a wall falling in a fire at Los Angeles, five firemen being injured. The man in white helmet did not back away quickly enough. His foot was broken.

Wash Day in Switzerland.

In some remote parts of Switzerland land wash day comes but twice a year. The Alpine peasant woman is too busy working the crops and tending the cattle in the summer to do the washing, and in the winter it is too cold, so she does it in bulk in the spring and fall. She takes her turn for several days among the other women of the neighborhood at the community tub, which is filled with water piped down from a glacier. Near by big copper kettles are skillets over fires built on the ground in order that she may have hot water to help loosen the dirt which, in most cases, is thoroughly ground into the garments. They do not rub the clothes but, after soaping, throw them against an inclined board.

POSTAL IMPROVEMENT WEEK IS OBSERVED

May 1 Sees Inaugurated First General Campaign of Kind in Service.

Without the Postal Service, business would languish in a day, and be at a standstill in a week. Public opinion would die of dry rot. Sectional hatred or prejudice only would flourish, and narrow-mindedness thrive.

It is the biggest distinctive business in the world and it comes nearer to the innermost interests of a greater number of men and women than any other institution on earth. No private business, however widespread, touches so many lives so often or so sharply; no church reaches into so many souls, soothes so many pulses, has so many human beings dependent on its ministrations.

"Postal Improvement Week" has been set for May 1, by the Postmaster General. This is the first general campaign of its kind in the Postal Service for several decades. Business men and their organizations, large users of the mail, newspapers, motion pictures, advertisers, and the entire organization of 324,000 postal workers are to be enlisted in this country-wide campaign of "improved" postal improvements. Your help is vital. Address your letters plainly with pen or typewriter. Give street address. Spell out name of State, don't abbreviate. Put your return address in the upper left hand corner of envelope (not on the back) and always look at your letter before dropping in the mail to see if it is properly addressed. This care in the use of the mails is for your benefit and speeds up the dispatch and delivery of mail matter.

If you have any complaints of poor service make them to your postmaster. He has instructions to investigate them and report to the department.

COURTESY

It sticks in human relations like postage stamps on letters. The POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT expects it to be used by its postmasters and employees in dealing with the public.

Help them in its use beginning with POSTAL IMPROVEMENT WEEK, May 1-6, 1922.

"Here Come The Elephants!"

Do you remember how you used to be on the job bright and early to see the circus parade? Remember how you thrilled as the lions, tigers, and the big, lumbering elephants passed in review? How the horses, the blare of the bands, the antics of the clowns, and the glitter of it all inspired you with a fervid inspiration to see the real show—the big performance in the tent?

You didn't realize it then, but you were getting a lot out of an attractive advertisement.

Perhaps you don't realize it now, but other advertisements, just as attractive, just as interesting and far more valuable to you, parade daily before you in the columns of this paper.

The merchants and makers of everything you want or need, here display before you their most attractive wares. It is truly "the greatest show on earth."

The whole purpose of any advertisement is to excite your curiosity, gain your interest, arouse your desire; to tell you something you don't know; to remind you of something you have forgotten; to convince you of something over which you have been hesitating.

In short, the purpose of an advertisement is, in one way or another, to make you happier.

Sir Ernest's Story.

Sir Ernest Shackleton was always fond of a good story. Here is one that he used to tell about himself. "A gushing lady had been introduced to him and began at once to talk about his voyages. 'I always think,' she said, 'that one must have such wonderful dreams while leading that kind of life.' 'Beautiful dreams, indeed,' said Sir Ernest. 'Oh, do tell me, now, what you used to dream about in the Antarctic?' 'Treacle pudding,' answered the explorer.—London Tit-Bits.

WITHOUT STREET ADDRESS YOUR MAIL IS DELAYED AT OFFICE OF DELIVERY

The Dead Letter Office has been in existence ever since Ben Franklin started our postal service. Even then people addressed mail to Mr. Ezekiel Smithers, "Atlantic Ocean," and expected Ben to know just where Zeke lived.

Perhaps they had Zeke's address in letters up in the garret, maybe a chest full of 'em, but then it was easier to let Ben hunt Zeke. Today people are addressing letters to John Smith, New York, N. Y., or Chicago, Ill., thinking Uncle Sam can locate him, which is just as incomplete as was Zeke's address of yore. The Postoffice Department asks you to put the number and street in the address. It helps you.

Trinidad Col.

How do you expect the Postal Clerk to know whether you mean Trinidad, California, or Trinidad, Colorado?

ALWAYS SPELL OUT THE NAME OF THE STATE IN FULL IN THE ADDRESS.

"MORE BUSINESS IN GOVERNMENT"

This apt phrase was used in President Harding's first message to Congress and applies particularly in postal management where postmasters are being impressed with the fact that they are managers of local branches of the biggest business in the world.

HERE COMES A STRANGER!

Let's make our post office look neat. Mr. Postmaster, straighten up the rural letter box. Mr. Farmer, tidy up, some. Mr. Rural Carrier, first impressions are lasting. Maybe Mr. Stranger, taking notice of these improvements, will come back, bringing you benefits. Start these with "POSTAL IMPROVEMENT WEEK" May 1-6.

HUMANIZING THE POSTAL SERVICE

"There is no unimportant person or part of our service. It is a total of human units and their co-operation is the key to its success. In its last analysis, postal duties are accommodations performed for our neighbors and friends and should be so regarded, rather than as a hired service performed for an absentee employer." Postmaster General Hubert Work.

Whale Can't Breathe Under Water. The whale who, because he lives in the water, is often supposed to be a member of the fish family, is in reality no more one than is a human being. He is in reality an animal very much like a cow or a horse, and his flesh is real animal flesh, nothing whatever like that of a fish. And like all other mammals, he cannot remain under water without an occasional trip to the surface.

Blow for the Minister. In a certain church one of the duties of the old sexton was to pump the organ. The man was deaf and perhaps on that account had fallen into the somewhat embarrassing habit of abruptly quitting his task before a hymn was ended. One Sunday a new minister was coming, and since he was young and unmarried, the young lady who played the organ naturally wanted to appear to the best advantage. As soon as the service had begun she wrote a note and, handing it to the sexton, told him to read it at once. Evidently the old man did not correct his words, for to her horror she saw him go to the applier right after the first hymn and hand him the note. The minister opened it and read: "Keep playing steadily away until I tell you to stop."—Youth's Companion.

Did Well With Crude Instruments. Long before the Christian era instruments were made for the measurement of angles on the principle of the subdivision of the circle. This the ancient Egyptians laid out their lands on the banks of the fertilizing Nile. The instruments were crude because "the long result of time" had not yet perfected them, but they answered their purpose well enough to enable Eratosthenes, 250 years B. C., to measure the circumference of the round earth.

FRESH FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

You'll always find that our stock of these is the latest the market affords. Drop into the store often and watch the counters. Then, too, we always have

FRESH FISH AND SHAD

These are coming thru finely during the cooler weather and the care that we give them assures you of having the best of fish for your table.

POSTMISTRESS AT GRASSFLAT

Miss Ethel O. Lakin has been appointed postmistress at Grassflat Post office, a third class office in Clearfield County, Pa. She is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lakin and belongs to an old and well known Clearfield County family. She did such efficient work for two years as assistant to Postmaster J. O. Lakin that her petition for the appointment showed the support of every business man in the town, as well as of the citizens generally.

Miss Elizabeth Read of Pine Grove spent the week and with friends in town.

ALBERT CAMPBELL

Albert Campbell, first tenor of the Sterling Trio and Peerless Quartet, is a New Yorker by birth, education and taste. He is an old minstrel man but has gained undying fame thru his duets with Henry Burr.

HENRY BURR

Known the world over as a singer of tuneful and sentimental ballads. His is an art that never fails to please. Duets, too, with Campbell, a member of the Sterling Trio and Peerless Quartet.

BILLY MURRAY

According to the opinion of many who have heard him, he is the funniest man in the world. Certainly he has no equal as a singer of topical songs. Next to singing he loves baseball best.

FRANK CROXTON

Basso of the Peerless Quartet, has spent many years on the concert platform, and is especially famous as an oratorio singer. Big of stature, he has a voice of corresponding size.

Eight Famous Victor Artists

IN A POPULAR PROGRAM OF MIRTH, MELODY AND JAZZ

THE DRIGGS THEATRE

CLEARFIELD, PA.

Tuesday Evening, at 8:15, May 9th, '22

This famous aggregation will play a limited number of engagements in the United States this season. You have known them for years through their Victor records; this is your first and perhaps your last chance to hear them all on one program. An evening of genuine musical entertainment.

EACH ONE A STAR

Not one of them has a rival in his own specialty. Such an aggregation of talent on one program is very unusual. Certainly their equal has never appeared on any concert or vaudeville program in this city.

JOHN MEYER

Baritone of the Sterling Trio and the Peerless Quartet, gained his first experience as a church singer; he is a talented pianist, and will be heard in piano duets with Frank Banta. Has composed several popular songs.

MONROE SILVER

Here is "Cohen" himself. He will stand before you and tell the various experiences of familiar inhabitants of New York's famous East Side; and only the deaf fail to laugh when Monroe Silver tells a story.

FRED VAN EPS

Van Eps probably knows more about the banjo than any living man. Not only is he a wizard of the banjo, but he makes all of his own instruments. He attributes his virtuoso skill to hard work, and plenty of it.

FRANK BANTA

Frank Banta, the pianist and accompanist, has specialized in that class of music known as "Jazz." His skill is truly remarkable, and nobody is more versatile in devising new rag-time effects at the keyboard.

THE ROVER

By George Randolph Chester

HURDY GURDY FINANCE

round and the pathetic little rickety switchback. John Ames saw a doll-like young girl standing uncertainly alone, with the sunlight shimmering on her curly hair.

In the next instant, half a dozen stouthy young men, undersized but swaggering, swept from the corner of the dilapidated Fretzel garden, and surrounded her.

"Hello, Cutie," said one of the mob, the one with the ugly scar across his mouth.

They all laughed, and prepared to take part in this entertaining new game, but the girl, too frightened to scream, darted her way through them like a golden eel, and, seeing nowhere else to go, ran straight towards tall John Ames, fixing on him the roundest blue eyes he had ever seen.

There was not much opportunity for a thrilling rescue. The Mud Creek gang made a comprehensive estimate of the athletic-looking, black-haired stranger, and swaggered away, pretending to laugh in a carefree, light-hearted manner.

Events followed rather precipitately. An iron-pawed, thick-bodied man, with a leg and an arm on each side of him, rushed from behind the switch-back, dashed into the Mud Creek gang, singled out the young man with the ugly scar on his mouth, grabbed him by the back of his coat collar, and pelleted him in the ear with a fist which was crowded with big, rough knuckles.

A close-cropped, full beard, topping a short, solid, prosperous-looking man, came running across the grounds from the popcorn stand.

"Daddy!" cried the golden-haired one, deserting the arm of John Ames, to which she had clung, for a frightened instant, and ran towards the beard.

A procession passed, consisting of the iron-pawed man, the conductor of the merry-go-round, two tough waiters and the "barker" for the fortune-teller booth, all kicking the leader of the Mud Creek gang towards the front gate.

"Thank you," said the beard to John Ames. The portion of face which was visible was white with anger, as he drew the arm of his daughter through his own.

"I'm glad to have been here," returned Ames pleasantly. He felt, rather than saw, the absolutely round blue eyes fixed on him, and it was their blueness more than their helplessness which he afterwards remembered.

Having strained himself to remember the courtesies of the occasion, the beard whirled, and had started on a bee-line for home when the iron-pawed man hurried back, a little out of breath.

"That's a rotten shame, Mr. House-to," he abjectly apologized. "It's a new gang, and they were never out here on Monday before. They won't."

The keen eyes above the beard—they were blue, too—slightly glared at the iron-jawed man, and then went away.

"Now he won't come back any more!" gruffly mourned the iron-jawed man.

Ames looked after the retreating beard with a frown of condemnation.

"They shouldn't have been here," he criticized.

The iron-jawed man inspected Ames slowly before he answered.

"Why not?" he growled. "This is a respectable place on Monday afternoons."

"You're the proprietor, I take it?" he guessed.

"Joe Wilks," was the answer, not untinted with a certain aggressive claim on respect.

"You should make this place pay," he advised. "This town is prosperous; and it needs a good recreation park."

"If you show me how to make it pay, I'll cut you in on it," gloomily promised the proprietor.

MISS ANNA B. SAVAGE DIES

Miss Anna B. Savage, only daughter of the late ex-County Commissioner and Mrs. Admes Savage, and a sister of Matthew Savage, former publisher of the Public Spirit, died at her home on Pine street this morning at 6 o'clock after a brief illness from an attack of pneumonia.

The deceased was a veteran school teacher and taught in the county and local schools for many years. She is survived by the one brother mentioned.

MRS. SARAH E. SHAW

Mrs. Sarah E. Shaw died at the home of her daughter Mrs. Lewis Reid, in Paradise at 6:45 Sunday afternoon. Obsequies and funeral announcement later.

MCPHERSON

Mrs. Elizabeth McPherson, widow of the late Thomas McPherson, passed away suddenly just after noon on Saturday, April 29, 1922, at her home near Montgomery, Lawrence township. Mrs. McPherson was a daughter of the late Andrew Addleman and Margaret, his wife, and was 77 years of age. She is survived by four children, Margaret, wife of Latimer R. Gulich, of this place; Ida, Belle and Powell at home, and by one brother J. A. Addleman of Farmville, Virginia and one sister, Mrs. Emma Sellers, of Bellefonte, South Dakota.

The funeral services will be held at her late home at 10 o'clock a. m. Wednesday afternoon in the Centre Cemetery, near Hyde.

HIP WAS NOT BROKEN

Alex Wallace, the Lawrence township mountaineer, who fell and hurt his leg at the corner of Second and Locust streets Saturday morning, was not so seriously hurt as at first thought. The X-ray examination showed that no bones were broken altho the hip and thigh was badly bruised. His injury will keep the old fellow confined to the hospital for several days, however.

Kansas City, Mo., May 1.—Five negroes were reported killed three or four were missing and several other persons injured when an explosion wrecked a two-story rooming house on Independence Avenue today.

MERRIFIELD-HILTON

On Saturday afternoon, April 29, 1922, at the parsonage of the West Side Methodist church, Mr. Clifford Merrifield, of Goshen and Miss Effie M. Hilton, of Clearfield, were united in marriage by Rev. Armstrong. The ring ceremony of the church was used. The young folks will reside in Goshen.

HIGH PRIESTS OF

JAZZ COMING

Those who like their music swift, tantalizing and riotous will be pleased to hear that the McDougal Alley Syncopators, the high priests of jazz princes of syncopation, and owners of the "laughing trombones" and "giggling clarinets" are coming to the Driggs Theatre Monday evening, May 8th with the Greenwich Village Follies, the unique revue which mirrors the goings-on in New York's widely discussed Bohemian community.

HAVE THOSE THINGS

CLEANED BEFORE

STORING

The time is here when you will store your heavy winter clothing and the best thing that you can do with them is to have them cleaned before you store them.

The chance of moths getting into them is much less if you have them cleaned and then put them away right afterward. Then, there's the satisfaction of having them ready when you want them next fall.

RUMMAGE SALE

The second week in May, exact days to be announced later, the Red Cross will hold a Rummage Sale in their room, opposite Leib's Drug store, Curwensville. The object to raise funds to carry on health and relief work in our own town. There will be for sale for a small sum of money, clothing, millinery, books, ornaments and all articles of household furniture. To make this sale possible we ask all women, now engaged in the delightful task of house cleaning to add to their pleasure and relief by donating to the Red Cross all those articles which they clean and reclean from year to year, and then put in storage until another renovating season comes around. This will save a lot of nerves and strength worn to a frazzle, provide some one with just the thing they needed, for a small price and benefit the Red Cross Health Fund. Certain days will be set apart for the reception of articles contributed.

Monday evening, May 1, at 8 o'clock will be the monthly meeting of Red Cross women. All attend. Business of importance.

Value of Varnish Long Known.
Varnish as a preservative, made from gum, is by no means modern, for a so-called varnish was entombed in wrappings around mummies when they were first laid away in ancient Egypt. And in the nineteenth century B. C. temples on Thebes were decorated with paintings in which varnish had its part. The magnetic quality found in amber was long ago supposed to lend firmness of tone to violins which were varnished with a mixture of amber and alcohol. Zanzibar gum is the latest approach to amber in its uses, and often beautiful bugs are found embedded within its clear substance. Such a curious thing as the tail of a chipmunk with each half of it in the breeze has been found embedded in Zanzibar gum.

Pitcairn Island
Pitcairn island has an area of about two miles square. The population now is said to be about 220. The natural food resources of the island, chiefly fruits, fishes and wild birds, probably would support a population of five hundred. The island has no mail course with the outside world, with the exception of an occasional letter from a passing ship.

Shocks Caused by Moods.
Shocks cause moods. Every shock calls up all the memories caused by former shocks of the same nature and excites the passion it is connected with. Moods, then, are not only a shock, but a reminder of a shock. A strong mood will always supplant a weaker one. Some of a shock of high intensity, as anger will fall while a mood of lower intensity, but greater persistence such as love, is in progress. The anger mood looks out the love mood, and only anger memories and moods rule the mind. At length these grow weak and disappear and the love mood with its moods and anguishes, return to thought—its change.

Curious Scales Used in Ecuador.
A short stick carrying a suspended pan at each end and held up by a cord about the center is the common trade balance of Ecuador. The weight is a rock about the size of a man's fist and the same size the stones are used. The price for a commodity is almost never fixed and as the Ecuadorian is always prepared and expects to come down some what from his first price. It speaks worlds for his optimism that he invariably gets more. A bargaining does not actually begin until you have decided the first price and asked, "What is the last price?"

Wrong Belief Concerning Hebrew.
Less than two centuries ago even men of learning believed that Hebrew was the original language, and that all other languages were offshoots from it. It has since been discovered that Hebrew was a dead language in the time of Jesus and that modern language has been derived from it, not even Yiddish.

Have You Sick Headache?
Backache? Are You Nervous?

Advice For Women Young or Old
Everette, Pa.—I can highly recommend Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription to women of middle age. During middle life my health failed very rapidly. I went down so that I was just able to be around. I suffered with sick headaches, also had backaches and was extremely nervous. I was in a miserable condition when I began taking the Favorite Prescription, but I soon began to get strong and in time I got rid of all my headaches. My health then improved and I passed thru this critical period in a good healthy condition.—Mrs. Mary D. Knisely, R. 1 D No 1.
Health brings beauty. Get well and strong now by obtaining this "Prescription" of Dr. Pierce's of your druggist in tablets or liquid. Send 10c to Dr. Pierce, President Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., for a trial package.

"CHICKENS"

Dare-Devil Deems had fancied "poultry" ever since he'd learned to crow.

But it wasn't the kind that rises at dawn and sings to the morning sun.

One day, he lost his fortune and went to raising REAL chickens.

The rest is a hatch of romance and a thousand laughs.

Perhaps He Knows What He Meant.

The persistent pencil of stupid comments on the margins of the periodicals at the public library occasionally makes us smile in spite of ourselves. Opposite an article in a recent Spectator about the Irish boundary he wrote, "There can be no Irish boundary. Ireland one and indivisible."

Put it in Writing.

Agreements made by word of mouth are like leaves of the forest. They fade out, drop off and blow away. Make a couple of copies of any contract you enter into. C'mon Fellers, Let's Go!

The sun was warm, but o, gosh! the water! It'd freeze a billygoat's whiskers when these kids went bathing in the Hudson river. But they didn't care. Like kids the country over, they wanted to be the first of their gang to go swimming.

Soft Music Aids the Girls.

Music store clerks say that grandma and grandpa keep up to date with the jazz and the syncopated stuff. It is the sixteen-year-old granddaughter who plays "When You and I Were Young, Maggie," on the phonograph for her beau, and gazes soulfully into his eyes as the music weeps forth. The music store people declare that the old times bring the bean to the speaking point as the saxophones never do.—Milwaukee Journal.

The Stork's Mistake.

"Oh, mother," said a little girl excitedly, "there's a new baby over at Mrs. Brown's; but don't you think the stork meant it for Miss Jones, who boards there? 'Cause Mrs. Brown has four children already and Miss Jones hasn't got a single one."—Boston Transcript.

Forever Lost.

A man who was attending a vaudeville show in Denver recently laughed so hard at one of the jokes that he became hysterical, fainted and had to be carried out of the theater. Unfortunately he was unable, when he recovered his reason, to remember what the joke was.

Aster Hardy Perennial.

The aster is one of the hardest perennial plants, and is spread throughout the world. Most of the numerous varieties belong to North America and are found in abundance in the fields. They bloom mostly from the middle of July until the first frost and are a prominent feature of most flower stores. Asters may be sown as early as the middle of March.

Danger of Being Too Tall.

NEVER before has the amazing Knight sleeve-valve motor been available in so fine a car at so low a price. Europe uses the Knight motor in her most famous and expensive cars. Now Willys engineering, Willys quantity production, put it in the reach of all in a car equally famous, but far less costly.

The Motor

The Willys-Knight motor is the highest development of the Knight sliding sleeve-valve principle. It gets more power out of less gas than any other motor of its size and weight. It is free from valve trouble, free from carbon trouble, smooth, quiet, flexible. Scientific tests and driver experience show that it grows more powerful with use. And its life-limit has never yet been ascertained.

The Car

The Willys-Knight Car is especially designed to match the motor in long life and distinction. Graceful, refined, dignified, its sturdy steel chassis beats off jolts and jars and holds the body permanently free from rattles and squeaks. Vigilant springs translate the roll of the road into undulating ease. It is fleet, comfortable, responsible—and a sound investment.

Stradivarius Violins.

Stradivarius was born in 1644 and died in 1737. He worked until he was over ninety years of age and turned out a large number of violins and violoncellos. Altogether, according to estimates, about one thousand violins and about three hundred other instruments are attributed to him. These other instruments include different kinds of viols, some bass viols and also some lutes, guitars and mandolins, very exquisitely wrought. The label in a genuine Stradivarius instrument is supposed to have been made of paper. Only an expert can distinguish a genuine instrument.

Olive Brought Here From Mexico.

The olive was brought into the United States from Mexico by the early Franciscan fathers and propagated from mission to mission as they progressed northward. The gold rush came, bringing its flood of travelers from southern Europe demanding their accustomed ration of olive oil. Good prices stimulated visions of untold wealth in the minds of the western pioneers, resulting in an olive planting boom. In 1835 there were fewer than 50,000 olive trees in America. Twelve years later there were 2,000,000, planted for the most part according to European traditions on waste land and not irrigated, and of small varieties in many cases, only suitable for crushing into oil.
